Headline:
Early cloud and mist clearing. Sunny spells following.

Today:
Early cloud or mist patches soon clearing. A dry, bright and breezy day follows, with good spells of sunshine. Temperatures will be near normal for mid-November, but feeling cooler at times in the breeze, strongest along the north Norfolk coast. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Clear skies and light winds for most during the evening. Cloud then thickens from northwest during the early hours, but likely staying dry. Staying breezy along northern coasts. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Thursday:
Some early brighter spells possible across eastern parts. Otherwise largely cloudy and breezy, although most places staying dry. Rather mild. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Friday to Sunday:
Rather cloudy, and mild Friday and Saturday, but mostly dry with just the odd spot of drizzle. Likely turning colder through Sunday, with sunny spells, showers and brisk winds.
